

CENTICORE

A Centicore (also known as a Yale) is a European mythical beast. It is said that its two horns could move around and point front or back so if one was broken in a fight the other horn could be used.

